School Books for Children in Bangkok, Thailand!

June 29, 2009

The ARK in Harvard IL [a ministry of The Educare Foundation of Illinois, a 501c3 non profit] has an urgent need for their outreach mission in Bangkok Thailand, equipping missionary families with school books for their children as well as providing education for children in the communities. Our Missionary Family in charge of The ARK in Bangkok, will be providing schooling and support for missionaries and their children, and children of the communities who could not otherwise go to school due to language barriers! We both have been praying since April 2009 for books for The ARK Bangkok, since our 'extra stock' in Harvard Illinois was not enough to supply their increasing numbers of students!

The first miracle! A little over a week ago, we were blessed by gracious donors and a church in Rockford who provided literally hundreds of quality school books and teaching materials for all grades for this mission! We are in need of another miracle, finding enough funds for shipping and handling to get these many books from Harvard Illinois USA to Bangkok, Thailand!
